

Investigate Design Methods for the Chinese Academic Library in the Future

A design of Nan Hu campus library of Wu Han University of Technology in the future

HUI LI

Tutor: Bin Su

Dushko Bogunovich

A research project submitted in partial fulfillment for the degree of Master of Architecture Professional, Unitec Institution of Technology
2013

In the 21st century, the world has moved into the information age. It is inevitable that paper literature gradually have been turning into digital one, simultaneously university campus is becoming more open. The design of academic library must adapt to those trends. As a new campus of modern university today, what role is academic library going to play? Is it a chance or a tragedy?